Do not fret about totaling the numbers for the entire year, because here is the chart you want.

As of 10-6-2026

Of interesting note is that the usage of desktop computers increased year over year versus other viewing devices. Desktop computers increased from 67.8% to 72%. Mobile phones decreased from 34.5% to 21%. Tablets decreased from 10.2% to 7%.

Also more readers downloading The Urlar as a PDF file. We continue to produce The Urlar as a PDF format for archive purposes, so our readers can always view all issues in this format on the US Branch web pages.

Beginning with Issue # 201, we made significant changes to the format of The Urlar. 1. The page size was changed from 5 X 7 to 81/2 X 11, allowing us to use larger fonts and to use larger photos. 2. We employed the use of AI , allowing us to make The Urlar more creative and more interesting to read. The Editor is very careful not to use any AI that distorts or misrepresents the Clan Macpherson in any manner.

The Fettle

Issue #	Quarter	# Pages	# Views	# Downloads
Fettle	Autumn 2026	24	95	0
View Device	Desktop %	89.5	Mobile %	9.5	Tablet %	1.1

During this current report period, we published one issue of The Fettle in the FlippingBook format. The above chart shows the stats for it.

As with The Urlar, viewers are looking at The Fettle with desktop computers more, than previous issues of The Fettle.

I have been your Urlar Editor for the last 20 years and 80 issues. It has been a challenging, exciting, and rewarding job. Over the course of 20 years, we have taken The Urlar from sending storyboards to the publisher, to using desktop software (Word) but still using a publisher, to creating digital PDF versions of The Urlar and eliminating the use of a publisher, to creating and using the interactive Flippingbook version of The Urlar, and now finally incorporating the use of AI into The Urlar. I also scanned previous issues of The Urlar and generated a PDF file for each issue, so now all 201 issues are available to our readers in a digital format.

I respectfully ask for your vote to be your Urlar Editor for the calendar year 2027. Also, I respectfully ask the Council to approve me as the Publication Committee Chairman for the calendar year 2027.

It is my honor to serve you.

Respectfully submitted,

George McPherson
